Unqork for Law Enforcement

Dynamic law enforcement tools to meet today's challenges.

Unqork, a ground-breaking, fully no-code software company backed by Google, enables law enforcement agencies to rapidly triage response for non-violent emergencies to the appropriate social service agencies.
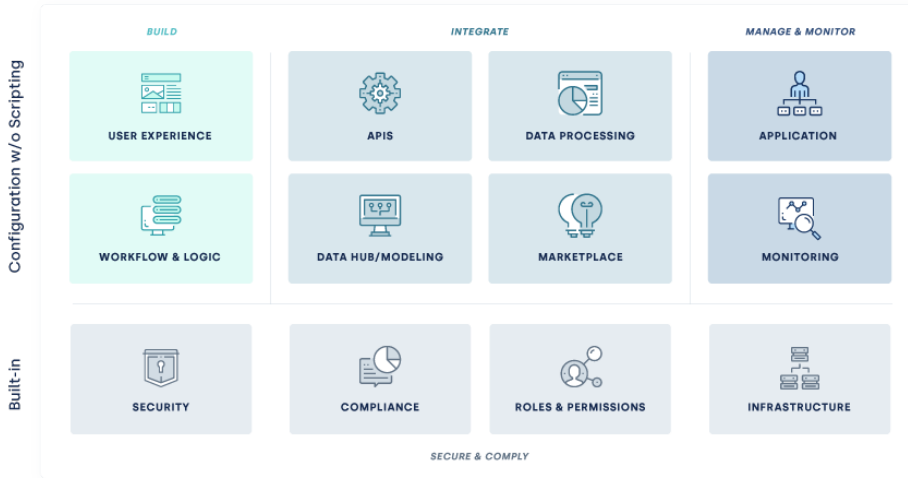

Leveraging existing technology infrastructure, Unqork ensures residents in need receive services from the agencies best suited to help and enables law enforcement officers to focus on public safety and crime reduction.

Central to this tool is Unqork's unparalleled ability to integrate with disparate legacy computing systems, which breaks down silos and enables interoperability across agencies and functions.

Its end-to-end case management functionality provides clear, auditable workflows demonstrating a given case's path from law enforcement response, to social service referral, to case manager engagement, to ultimate outcome.

How it works

- RMS Integration - Integrates with PD Records Management System & leverages natural language processing and 211/311 dispatch to determine referral destination.

- Case Management - Routes referrals to the proper agency for resolution via existing case management systems (CMS), Unqork CMS, or other (based on requirements).

- Data, security & reporting - Role based controls and security protocols ensure proper access to information by all parties. Command dashboard provides auditable referral workflow, active cases, and outcome statistics.

Everything you need to build enterprise quality applications without having to write a single line of code.
